STARTUP CREASPHERE SPAIN BY ROCHE: BASES FOR THE CALL

Date: March 2024

INTRODUCTION

Roche Farma, S.A., Unipersonal member of the Roche Group, headquartered in Basel, Switzerland; Roche is a leader in research in health products, with the combined power of pharmaceutical-diagnostic integration. Roche is the world's largest biotech company and has truly differentiated medicines in oncology, virology, inflammation, metabolism and CNS (central nervous system). In addition, Roche is also the world leader in in vitro diagnostics, including cancer histology, and a pioneer in diabetes management. Roche's personalized healthcare strategy aims to provide medicines and diagnostic tools that enable tangible improvements in patients' health, quality of life and life expectancy. For more information visit www.roche.com

Roche relies on innovation to solve its great challenges of the future; taking an interest in the open innovation ecosystem, connecting with sources of innovation and technology from innovative startups and professionals. To this end, Roche Farma creates Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche, its startup acceleration program and innovative projects developed in hospitals and health centers, which in this second edition will be developed in two areas of interest: ophthalmology and hepatocellular carcinoma.

In the ophthalmological area, Roche is present in age-related macular degeneration (AMD) disease and diabetic macular edema (DME) disease. Roche's goal is to position itself in this market as an innovative company, offering a differentiating value proposition, through collaboration with start-ups that can offer innovative solutions to the National Health System.

On the other hand, hepatocellular carcinoma is a disease with a high prevalence and high mortality rates where there is a need to focus on innovation and provide solutions for patients throughout the different stages of the disease. Roche is present in the late stages of the disease and has developments in different stages to be able to address the disease in its earlier stages.

This document contains the Participation Bases of the second Call of Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche (hereinafter the "Call").

OBJECTIVE OF THE SECOND CALL

The Call aims to promote business initiatives and innovative hospital projects by supporting entrepreneurs, in the case of startups facilitating their access to the market, in order to turn their ideas into successful companies improving their projection, growth and scalability, and in the case of hospital projects, giving them visibility and recognition. The main objective is the creation of a startups accelerator and hospital innovation in the ophthalmological and hepatocellular carcinoma areas (which could be scalable in the future to other areas of the company) in order to:

- Provide selected startups with the best access to the National Health System (NHS)
- Foster the momentum and visibility of hospital projects that bring improvements to patients and the care process.

STARTUP CREASPHERE SPAIN BY ROCHE: BASES FOR THE CALL

Date: March 2024

- Facilitate access to new technologies for the National Health System, which can benefit both the system and patients, in the ophthalmological and hepatocellular carcinoma areas.
- Position Roche as an innovative company in the ophthalmology and hepatocellular carcinoma management area, and as a reference partner for technology companies and SNS in the management of technological innovation within the healthcare ecosystem.

PARTICIPANTS IN THE CALL

The Call is aimed at:

- 1) Startups with a corporate legal form, that are in phases of initiation of their activity, of technological base, with an innovative approach and with vocation of growth, scalability and international vision, so that they can contribute with their innovation to the development of solutions to some of the objectives set in the Call. Participating startups must be in late seed and pre-series A stages, i.e. start-ups in early stages, and no more than five years since their creation (hereinafter referred to as "startups"). They must also be established in Spain or another European Union country.
- 2) Public or private hospitals, health foundations and other non-profit entities in the health field, all established in Spain, that propose innovative projects in the areas of ophthalmology and hepatocellular carcinoma in the health field that can contribute value to the health care process.

PROGRAM STARTUP AND PROJECT ITINERARY

CALL, REGISTRATION, SELECTION AND AWARDS

This Call marks the start of the program activities, from which point the registration deadline is opened for startups and entities defined in the previous section, with their corresponding projects, interested in participating. Startups will participate in a selection phase, which will include the pre-selection of finalists, who will be invited to present their projects in a Startup Day before a jury.

The jury will be composed exclusively of natural persons without any link to startups and other participants (in particular, Roche representatives, entrepreneurial experts and/or industry experts). The jury will make its decisions with complete independence, according to the criteria established in these bases.

The two startups and the two projects for each therapeutic area (ophthalmology and hepatocarcinoma) selected by the jury, will have at your disposal an acceleration plan and, where applicable, personalized mentoring between the startup / participants responsible for the project and Roche.

In addition, at the end of the acceleration process, a start-up and a hospital project will be awarded for each therapeutic area. Three participants in each winning startup and hospital project will be awarded a trip to Munich, Germany, to attend the Startup Creasphere Expo Day, Roche's startups accelerator. The trip will take 2 days and will include travel, accommodation and food, as well as a training tour of Startup Creasphere.

STARTUP CREASPHERE SPAIN BY ROCHE: BASES FOR THE CALL

Date: March 2024

ACCELERATION

The acceleration phase will be accessed by candidate projects with a viable and patient-friendly project model. In the case of startups, those with clear possibilities of growth and scalability, with a defined business model and products and/or services.

The acceleration phase will last approximately 2 months. At the end of this phase, participants will present their projects to Roche and the advisory committee at expoDay.

PILOTING

After the acceleration program is complete and the Demo Day is held, Roche will be able to track the progress of the participating startups and the development of their business, taking any action it deems appropriate. You can also track hospital projects.

In the case of startups, after Expo Day, Roche may make effective the possibility of lending funding and/or taking a share in the share capital of those startups it considers of interest. This does not imply any commitment on the part of Roche Farma, which reserves the right to realize this possibility.

The potential funding and/or investment of Roche Farma in the startups will be adapted to the project in question, and will take into account its development, evolution and degree of maturity in the different phases of the program. The terms of this potential funding and/or investment will be developed in an entrepreneurship contract, where applicable.

ACCELERATION PROGRAM

During the acceleration phase, Roche will offer to projects selected for this phase (startups or hospital):

- Personalized acceleration plan, including but not limited to a number of services, adapted to the needs of the start-up or project and its degree of maturity:
 - Mentoring: Selected participants will have at their disposal an assigned mentor who will accompany the project and provide personalized feedback throughout all activities in which they participate, and will be provided with experts specializing in different industries and technologies.
 - Support communication plan, branding and launch.
 - Training to complement the knowledge of the selected entrepreneur/participant team through courses, talks, and other activities.
 - Networking with successful entrepreneurs, investment networks, business schools, universities and private investors.

PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

Entities defined in Participant's Section that present original innovative projects in the areas of ophthalmology and hepatocarcinoma and that fulfill the following requirements may participate in the Call:

- The participating startups must be legal persons, Spanish or belonging to the EU, with full capacity to act, in accordance with the current regulations.

STARTUP CREASPHERE SPAIN BY ROCHE: BASES FOR THE CALL

Date: March 2024

- In addition, participating startups should be aware of payments both in respect of the General Social Security Treasury and in respect of the Tax Agency
- Partners and admins of participating startups may not be employees, admins, partners, or have a business relationship with Roche Farma at the time of application.
- Participating startups will not be able to be involved at the time of their application by PLUG&PLAY, the current partner of the "Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche", or any company in their group.
- The participants must be the intellectual authors of the projects they present, which must be unpublished. They shall also be liable for any intellectual, industrial or commercial property claims that may arise in respect of matters arising from their projects, and shall at all times hold the Roche Group harmless from any such claims.

Roche reserves the right at any time to require participants to provide evidence that they meet these requirements.

Participants who do not meet any of the above criteria will be excluded from this Call, losing any option to receive any benefits and without the right to claim any of Roche.

Monitoring, growth and performance metrics will be established for each selected participant to inform the periodic progress report. Failure to comply with the acceleration program in both its objectives and metrics will result in the expulsion of the selected participant. In such a case, Roche may exercise the option of replacing the expelled participant and offering the acceleration program to the next participant in order of assay not previously selected in the selection process.

The data that participants provide when registering in the Call must be truthful, so they will lose any option to participate in the program and receive any benefit and / or possible investment, those participants whose data are false, incorrect or incomplete, all without prejudice to the responsibilities that result from these behaviors, which will be fully assumed by the participant leaving Roche unharmed. Roche reserves the right to make such verifications as it deems appropriate with respect to the veracity of the data provided by the participants.

By registering in this Call, the participant fully and unconditionally accepts the terms contained in these Bases.

Roche reserves the right not to accept or dismiss any participant who, in its opinion, acts fraudulently, abusively, contrary to the spirit of the program or the law, to the rights of third parties and/or to good faith, all without prejudice to the responsibilities arising out of these conduct, which shall be assumed in full by the participant, leaving Roche harmless.

Roche may terminate any participant whose performance or that of any member of its team may be contrary to the reputation or good name of Roche.

Roche reserves the right not to accept any participant because it understands that it does not provide an adequate response to the challenges posed, or because of the number of projects accepted or for any other reason.

CALL*

Date: March 2024

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

The application for admission to participate in the Call will be made by registering and sending information through the online form available on the Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche platform: <https://startupcreasphere.com/spain>

Applications for admission received or attempted after the deadline for admission of applications will not be admitted to the program.

REGISTRATION AND SELECTION PERIOD

The milestones and dates to consider for the Call are:

The registration period will start from the publication of these bases on 19/03/2024 at 12:00h and will end:

on 19/04/2024 at 23:59h (GMT + 1) Madrid time for startups

on 26/04/2024 at 23:59h (GMT + 1) Madrid time for hospital projects

Applications for admission received after the indicated date and time will not be analyzed.

The selection period of participants, as defined in Section 3, will run from the end of the registration deadline, i.e. 19/04/2024 for startups and 26/04/2024 for hospital projects, until 29/04/2024.

The result of the selection will be communicated in due time to the completion of the Selection Period for the selected ones.

It is planned that the Program of this Call will start from 20/05/2024.

These dates may be subject to change based on program needs.

The milestones and dates indicated may be subject to change by Roche. In such case, such modification will be communicated on the Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche platform: <https://startupcreasphere.com/spain>

ANALYSIS PROCESS AND SELECTION OF THE STARTUPS AND PARTICIPATING PROJECTS

The evaluation and selection will take place in three phases: (i) the qualification phase of applications; (ii) pre-selection of finalists; and (iii) jury evaluation and selection.

APPLICATION QUALIFICATION PHASE

At the end of the application submission period, all applications submitted to the Call will be analyzed, verifying compliance with the participation requirements set out in Section 3 and 5 of these bases, based on the information contained in the application. At this stage, only requests that do not meet the defined requirements will be discarded. All participants who meet all requirements will enter the finalist screening phase.

CALL*

Date: March 2024

FINALIST PRE-SELECTION PHASE

The Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche team will perform the screening of candidates from among all applications supported in the Call, based on the criteria set out in Section 8 of these bases. To supplement project information, personal interviews may be set up to determine information not reflected in the documentation provided through the registration form. There will be a pre-selection of up to fifteen startups to go into the jury evaluation and selection phase.

JURY EVALUATION AND SELECTION PHASE

At this stage, participants will present their projects to the jury.

The jury will assess the finalists globally at this stage by applying the criteria set out in Section 8 of these bases to the presentations made.

A maximum of 4 finalist participants (2 startups and two hospital projects) will be selected, in order of evaluation, and will be invited to participate in the acceleration program.

Roche reserves the right to declare the Call completely or partially deserted.

ENTERPRISE CONTRACT (startups only)

Selected startups will be able to enter into an entrepreneurship contract with Roche, a prerequisite for accessing the program. The contract shall contain, without limitation, rules relating to the following:

- The customized acceleration plan and business milestones.
- The requirement of entrepreneurs' face-to-face participation in the acceleration program, and especially in training, mentoring and events, whenever pandemic conditions allow.
- The ability to grant Roche funding and/or take part in the startup, at Roche's discretion and on terms determined by the startup (under market conditions). This is not a compromise on the part of Roche, which reserves the right to realize this potential
- Roche information rights on key project indicators after the program is completed.

SCREENING CRITERIA

The team will rate startups and projects according to the following criteria, for a maximum total score of the startup or project of 100 points.

Roche reserves the right to request, when deemed necessary for the evaluation of applications, additional clarifications, interviews to meet candidates, authorization to visit its work center, and additional documentation or material in order to know the project in more detail and to be able to assess it properly.

OBLIGATIONS OF SELECTED STARTUPS (NOT APPLICABLE TO HOSPITAL PROJECTS)

Participation in this Call means the full and unconditional acceptance of these Bases, published on <https://startupcreasphere.com/spain> without caveats or conditions.

The participant shall be solely responsible for the accuracy of the information contained in the submitted documentation, and Roche shall not in any way be required to investigate or prove such veracity, subject to its being able to do so, if it deems it necessary or appropriate.

Similarly, selected startups will be able to enter into an entrepreneurship contract with Roche as a preliminary to their entry into the acceleration program.

The provision by Roche of the startups that are the winners of the acceleration and piloting services and, where applicable, the possible taking of participation, upon agreement with the start-up, will mean that they have to fulfill the following commitments (without prejudice to their further development in the start-up contract):

1. Develop the selected project exclusively through the startup.
2. Participate in the program in compliance with Roche standards, guidelines and guidelines and assist in activities to be scheduled under the acceleration program.
3. Prioritizing project development
4. Not be linked, directly or indirectly, to any other person or entity whose business is in direct or indirect competition with Roche.
5. Exclusively transfer in favor of the startup all rights of use and exploitation on any software, writing, plan, model, patent, utility model, industrial design, trademark or on any other intellectual and / or industrial property rights that the promoter team, partners, workers or collaborators carry out or develop in the frame of the project for the whole world territory, for the maximum time established by the Law and for its exploitation through any formats and / or modalities.

STARTUP CREASPHERE SPAIN BY ROCHE: BASES FOR THE

Date: March 2024

6. Selected startups should provide access to required project documentation and information from Roche.
7. The selected startups, during their stay in the acceleration program, will not be able to present the project to other calls for entrepreneurship support without the prior authorization of Roche. Otherwise, they will be excluded from the program.
8. Startups receiving funding from third parties for the development of the project covered by this call should inform Roche in writing.
9. Participants who are chosen to develop the project must comply with the obligations for coordination of preventive activities, established in the current regulations on prevention of occupational risks.

Program activities will be mandatory for selected startups. Startups that do not participate in the acceleration program sessions may be excluded from the program at any time.

Participation in this call and acceptance of these bases implies the authorization of Roche to disseminate and publish through the Internet and in specialized and/or generalist media a summary of the projects in question, as well as the image and name of the participants responsible for such projects.

For the purposes of monitoring and maximizing the use of Roche acceleration services, Roche must be sufficiently informed during the term of the start-up contract by regularly providing a dossier on the progress of the start-up.

INTELLECTUAL, INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

When submitting admission applications, participants ensure that:

- The projects are original to their authors and/or have full rights and dispositions to them.
- The participants accept with the mere participation that the works or creations that may arise from the Projects are in accordance with the content of the Royal Legislative Decree 1/1996, of April 12 ("LPI"), which approves the Consolidated Text of the Intellectual Property Law, regularizing, clarifying and harmonizing the existing legal provisions on the matter.
- In case the projects are a unitary result of the collaboration of several participants, the project will be treated as a collaborative work in accordance with article 7 of the LPI, with the resulting rights belonging to all of them as co-authors.
- The participant authorizes Roche to publish the project summary on their respective official websites, and agrees that visitors to the websites have access to this information in accordance with the terms of use of this website.
- The participant authorizes the use by Roche of the name and title of their project, without any time limit, to be mentioned in the website or for any actions or events related in any way to Roche, as well as to be reflected in the historical files and various supports of Roche and the Startup Creasphere Spain by Roche program
- The startup that is selected will grant Roche, for the duration of the entrepreneurship contract and for an additional period of at least one year plus a preferential right to acquire, market, license, distribute and, in general, any act of exploitation of the goods and services developed within the startup's own activity under the acceleration program, prior and preferably to any other third parties, under market conditions, in accordance with the terms set out in the entrepreneurship contract.
- The participant agrees that nothing in these bases authorizes or entitles it to use Roche industrial property rights, in particular trademarks or logos, or those owned by the company.
- In the event that, in the course of the implementation of the project, the participant has to have access to the documentation and knowledge base (standard contracts, data, etc.) of Roche, such access shall be conditional on the participant's acceptance of the respective confidentiality agreement that Roche may establish.

The participant agrees that nothing in these bases authorizes it to use Roche's industrial, intellectual, or commercial property rights.

RESERVATIONS AND LIMITATIONS

These bases are intended to establish the conditions and procedure for the selection of projects that will participate in this Roche Call. The terms and conditions included in these Program Bases do not constitute any binding or contractual link for Roche, or for the entrepreneur, or for the promoters of startups who submit applications for admission to the program, beyond what is expressly provided for therein. Startups that are selected to participate in the Acceleration Program will enter into an individualized entrepreneurship contract with Roche, which will imply admission to the Acceleration/Incubation Program.

All participants applying for admission to the program must bear all costs associated with their participation in the selection process. Selected participants must also bear their own travel and accommodation costs to attend the location where the individual sessions, group workshops and any other activities of the acceleration program take place, as these costs will not be borne by Roche.

Roche reserves the right to extend the term of this Call, communicating it to the participants through the platform, without generating any rights of complaint in the promoter teams of those projects that have submitted applications for admission.

Upon initiation of the Roche Acceleration Program, participants whose agents/promoters do not meet the conditions for participation in the program set out in their respective contracts are excluded from participation.

Roche will endeavor to resolve any technical failures that may occur in communications with participants of this Call, assuming their good faith. In no case shall Roche be liable for any deficiencies beyond its control.

JURISDICTION AND APPLICABLE LAW

These bases will be governed by Spanish law and any controversy arising from the interpretation or fulfillment thereof will be submitted to the courts and tribunals of Madrid capital.
